WILL THE INFLUENZA RETURN?

Public Health Authorities Predict Its Recurrence.

Guard Against It by Building Up the Blood

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich Red Blood and Increases Strength.

Surgeon General Blue of the United States Public Health Service, in a recent statement from Washington, warns the public that the much-dreaded influenza epidemic will probably return this fall and winter. All medical authorities agree that the weak, bloodless, run-down individual is more likely to contract this (as well as any other infectious disease) than is the strong, robust, red-blooded man or woman. In view of these facts, it is wise to use every effort to build up the blood and thus increase the bodily resistance to the invasion of the germs of the disease. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of lowered vitality not due to serious disease of the vital organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE A FINE CONVENTION

The fifth semi-annual convention of the Perrysburg Sunday School Association was held in the First Presbyterian Church, Sunday afternoon and evening, November 2. The excellent program, printed in the Journal last week, was carried out completely and went with a vim and enthusiasm that has characterized all the preceding conventions.

Dr. W. H. Pheley conducted the opening devotional service and keyed the audience to sympathetic hearing and spiritual warmth that was maintained throughout the convention. The special musical numbers, two from each Sunday school represented, contributed much to the enjoyment of both sessions and deepened the fine spirit of fellowship that prevailed.

President W. H. Rouse presided and happily introduced the speakers, of whom the first was Rev. Perry C. Hopper, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of Toledo. He spoke on the subject, "The Place of the Sunday School in the Community," and admirably presented the outstanding worth of the institution as the pioneer religious agency and the chief binding force in community life. He said it was the most important means for promoting and conserving the moral and spiritual education of our boys and girls. He named three things as essential to Sunday school efficiency as follows: Better trained teachers; heartier interest on the part of parents and closer unity of effort and co-operation on the part of the Sunday schools as a whole.

Mrs. Mary L. Simon, assistant probation officer of the juvenile court, and for years the teacher of a large men's Bible class in the St. Paul's M. E. Church, of Toledo was then introduced to speak on "A Sunday School Teacher's Opportunity for Social Service." She spoke from a wealth of experience with the lights and shadows of boy and girl life and the weakness and negligence of parental care. It was a heart-touching message, poignant with pain in parts, as one was made to feel the appalling need for the protection and guidance of boys and girls if they are to develop a worthy character and a love for the finer things of life. Here was the Sunday school teacher's opportunity and high privilege.

A brief business period followed and Rev. W. H. Spybey, the Association's director of religious education, outlined a plan for a union teacher training class, which was approved. The outlook is promising for a class of 30 members to be formed in the near future.

The evening session saw the church filled with interested hearers. Rev. W. H. Spybey, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the devotional service. Whole-hearted singing, an uplifting prayer and scripture response from the audience prepared the way for the stirring addresses which followed. President W. H. Rouse then introduced Rev. O. D. Swank, the new pastor of the Evangelical church, who spoke on "Reconstruction in Character." He told how the press and platform was making the word "reconstruction" work overtime in relation to industry, government and all sorts of schemes for social betterment. Without belittling this emphasis he stressed the importance of character reconstruction as the only rock foundation for any permanent improvement in social and economic conditions. Old human nature is ever with us. Man, with his greed, selfishness and lust for place and power must be changed. The old time religion alone can produce the transformation. Reconstructed hearts by the grace of God is what the world needs. All other good and desirable results will follow. The last speaker of the evening was our well known friend, Mr. V. A. Schreiber, superintendent of the Toledo district Anti-Saloon League of Ohio. He spoke on "Who Wants Booze? Not I, Sir, said Ohio." He lambasted the "wets" with sledge hammer blows until they were as dry as the desert of Sahara, and predicted a great victory for the "drys." He said that John Barleycorn was already buried but that on November 4 he would be turned over, face down, so that the harder he dug the deeper he would go into the pit whence he came.

Yes, it was a good convention and we are assured that the interest manifested will not be allowed to effervesce in the enthusiasm of the hour, but will bear fruit in constructive local results.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Spray for Blotch Paid Big This Year.

A summary of the apple blotch control demonstrations this year in Clermont, Scioto, Lawrence, Hamilton and Warren counties show that where blotched trees were sprayed, 90 per cent of the fruit was free from blemish and the remaining 10 per cent was marketable. On unsprayed blotched trees 90 per cent of the fruit was blotched so badly that it was unmarketable.

On the average, the cost of spraying per tree was from 30 to 50 cents including the sprays for codling moth. Four sprays were applied, two, four, six, and ten weeks after the petal-fall. The second and ten-weeks spray was for codling moth and contained 1½ pounds of powdered arsenate of lead, in addition to the regular spray which consisted of three pounds of blue stone, five pounds of hydrated lime, and 50 gallons of water.

An example of the difference in yield between the sprayed and the unsprayed fruit may be noted on two Smith-Cider trees in southern Ohio. The unsprayed tree yielded two bushels of apples worth $1 a bushel. The other tree yielded 13 bushels of apples worth $2.50 a bushel. The difference between $2 and $32.50 paid handsome profits for spraying.

This work was done co-operatively with the orchardists by the county farm bureaus, the Ohio State University, and the United States Department of Agriculture.

File Drainage Paying Even at High Prices.

In spite of the present high prices of tile and labor, money invested in tile drainage is paying bigger returns than ever before, according to agricultural engineering specialties of the Ohio State University. In time of normal prices 4-inch tile were costing about $18 per thousand. Now they cost $30.00 or an increase of 66 per cent. Likewise the cost of digging the trench was about 25 cents per rod. Now it is about 40 cents, or an increase of 60 per cent.

On the other hand, the prices of the principal farm products such as wheat, corn, oats, and hogs have increased fully 100 per cent, or 30 to 40 per cent more than the increase in the cost of drainage. Farmers' Institutes Booked For 433 Points.

The enrichment of rural home life will be stressed in the 433 state aid farmers' institutes this season in Ohio.

In addition to lectures dealing with this topic, exhibits of power and lighting systems, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, and other household labor-saving equipment will be on display. The institute season begins November 10 and ends February 28. As in past years many of the institutes in southern Ohio will be held during the first part of the season. Farmers Now Operate Main Grain Elevators.

A large increase in farmers' elevators in Ohio is reported by H. E. Erdman, of the Department of Rural Economics, Ohio State University, who has been studying the farmers' elevator movement in Ohio during the past few years. At present there are probably more than 200 companies in operation in Ohio, representing an increase of about 100 per cent during the past year. The increase in number is due to the dividends paid into the farmers hands rather than to the grain dealers, according to Mr. Erdman. Other reasons given for the increase are the general organizing system of farmers and the necessity for cutting out the middlemen's profits.

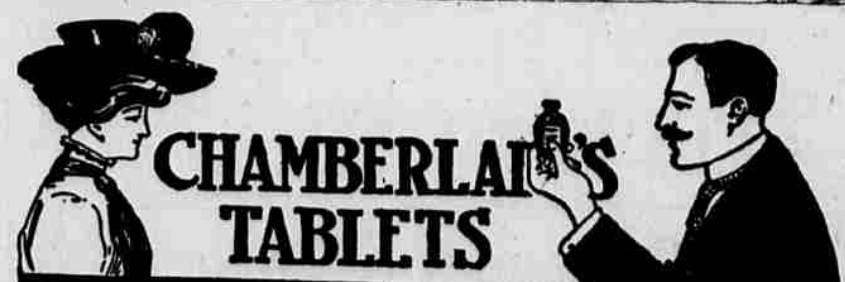

Some of these companies do a large business annually, a few amounting to between $400,000 and $500,000. A number of the companies have increased their capitalization during the last year and many of the newer companies are starting out with a capitalization of from $40,000 to $60,000.

ADDING TO EQUIPMENT

During the past week the Journal purchased the complete job printing outfit of Burgoon Bros., of Wauseon, and have moved it to Perrysburg. By acquiring this office the Journal adds another job printing press to its equipment, thus insuring more prompt service to the patrons of its job department. Included in the purchase was a considerable amount of modern type and other necessary equipment. During the past week the Journal has turned out seven orders for Toledo firms and is constantly making new customers. Let us figure with you on your next job. We have the type and presses, and we know our prices are as low as is consistent with good work and good material.
